Hidden Brook Farm
Lexington, Kentucky

Veteran horseman Jack Brothers has a lifelong association with the Thoroughbred industry. Raised in the shadow of Belmont Park, he lived and worked on the backstretch from his teens to his early 20s, including a formative span under Hall of Famer Woody Stephens. He then entered the auction industry before launching his own bloodstock business in the early 1990s.

A longtime consultant to both Adena Springs and Fasig-Tipton, he is involved in nearly every facet of the industry, as an owner, breeder, agent, and farm owner. An active partner in Hidden Brook, a 600-acre Paris, KY nursery, Jack raced Canadian Champion two-year-old Knights Templar in partnership, and was part of the team that selected Big Brown as a juvenile.

His passion for the industry has led him to actively seek out and recruit new owners and breeders, including those in the entertainment and business fields.

Personal Statement:

I bring a lifetime of experience in many facets of the thoroughbred industry.
